

In the waves checklist

1 In the waves checklist

In order to create your radio programme, you have to:

	Think of the topic of your radio programme.
	Distribute the roles of the participants.
	Do some research and choose the topic.

After the team meeting in the newsroom, each one has got the following tasks to fulfill:

As a radio host:
	Read the opening.
	Introduce the news reporter.
	Introduce the panellist.
	Read the closing.
As a news reporter:
	Select an appropriate story, sourcing and checking it before using its content.
	Rank different stories according to their importance and the topic they deal with.
	Compare the same piece of news in different languages.
	Write an audio story, including the different parts.
	Read the news report.
As a panellist:
	Express your own opinion about the news.
	Use different verbs and expressions to convey opinions.
As a sound technician:
	Find free-licensed bumpers online.
	Record the tracks.
	Edit the tracks to create the radio programme.
